The Assistant

by Bernard Malamud

The Assistant is the story of a penniless drifter who befriends a poor Jewish grocer, falls in love with the grocer's daughter and finds himself on a path toward self-knowledge, moral renewal and ultimately conversion. Published in 1957, this is the work that made Malamud's reputation as a novelist.

facilitated by:

UCLA Professor Charles Lynn Batten

A master teacher.

Immensely popular and thought-provoking.
