The Emigrants
by W.B. Sebald

A profound and original work of fiction...the stories of four people as they emigrate from land to land -- and, above all, as they move through history... an end-of-century meditation that explores the most delicate, most painful, most nervously repressed and carefully concealed wounds of the last hundred years.

facilitated by:

UCLA Professor Charles Lynn Batten
A master teacher.
Immensely popular and thought-provoking.
